

SVCN CONTINUING NURSING EDUCATION ON CRAFTING STRATEGIES FOR SUSTAINING AND ENHANCING CLINICAL TEACHING METHODS 2023-24

Sree Vidyanikethan College of Nursing organized the Continuing Nursing Education Program on "CRAFTING STRATEGIES FOR SUSTAINING AND ENHANCING CLINICAL TEACHING METHODS 2023-24" on 05.05.2023 from 2 PM to 4 PM. Clinical teaching is a full-time, school-based experience that is supervised by both a certified cooperative teacher and a university supervisor. The primary objective of clinical teaching is to provide the opportunity for the acquisition and demonstration of instructional competence by beginning professional educators. The CNE aimed to help to identify issues and provides knowledge for comprehending and resolving the issues by imparting relevant skills.

CONTINUING NURSING EDUCATION ON CRAFTING STRATEGIES FOR SUSTAINING AND ENHANCING CLINICAL TEACHING METHODS

Speakers:
Dr. P. Prathima, Principal, SVCN
Mrs. V. Kusuma, Assistant Professor, SVCN
Mrs. I. Bhanusree, Assistant Professor, SVCN

Organized by:
Sree Vidyanikethan College of Nursing

6 May, 2023 | 2:00 PM TO 4:00 PM

In Association with Student Nurses Association (SNA)

CE Seminar Hall

Ms. Neelima IVth year BSc Nursing student hosted the CNE Programme

Pre-test

Ms.Sai Priya IIIrd Year BSc(N) student given a welcome address

DrP.Prathima, Principal Mam had given Introduction of Crafting Strategies for Sustaining and Enhancing Clinical Teaching Methods: Bedside Clinics and Case Method in the CNEprogramme

Mrs.Kusuma explained Clinical teaching Methods: Conferences, Nursing Rounds in the CNE program

Ms.Praveena IVth year BSc (N) student gave Feedback that he had learned about Clinical Teaching Methods that how they will be useful during clinical practice and how to implement them during the clinical practice.

All Faculties have given appreciation Certificate To Dr.Prathima, Principal Mam in the CNE Programme

Dr. P. Prathima, Principal Mam has given an appreciation certificate to Mrs.V.Kusuma&Mrs.I.Bhanusree in the CNE Programme