

NOVEL CORONA VIRUS 2019 (N-CoV)

Sree Vidyanikethan College of Nursing organized a guest lecture on NOVEL CORONA VIRUS 2019(N-CoV) by Dr. G.Kalyan Chakravarthy, MD, Community Medicine, Medical superintendent, Community health centre, Naravaripalli & Public Health Expert.

Dr .G. Kalyan Chakravarthy enlightening the students on NOVEL CORONA VIRUS (N-CoV)

While addressing the audience, Dr.G.Kalyan focused on the current burning health problem i.e. Corona virus and its impact. He explained the mode of transmission of corona virus includes droplet nuclei, direct contacts with the infected person, and through infected needles.

Dr. G. Kalyan Chakravarthy interacting with the students

He stressed on prevention aspect of corona virus like simple hand washing, wearing masks, maintaining respiratory cleanliness like covering mouth and nose with cloth (or) flexed hand while coughing and sneezing and also emphasized on consumption of meat.

Dr. G. Kalyan Chakravarthy interacting with the students and clarifying doubts

200 students from Sree Vidyanikethan College of Nursing & 15 faculty members participated in Guest lecture & enriched with the strategies on prevention of corona virus.

The Principal, SVCN conveyed vote of thanks, and the programme adjourned with the National Anthem.